GMP Statement

Edison Grain Incorporated (“Edison Grain”) follows current Good Manufacturing Practices (“GMPs”) as required by the FDA under 21 CFR Part 117 Subpart B. This includes practices related to:

- Personnel Practices
- Plant and Grounds
- Sanitary Operations
- Sanitary Facilities and Controls
- Equipment and Utensils
- Processes and Controls
- Warehousing and Distribution
- Defect Action Levels

Because producing safe food products free from contamination is our primary obligation, it is mandatory that all employees know and follow the requirements and expectations regarding GMPs at all times while in the Edison Grain facility. All employees receive training in food hygiene and food safety, including the importance of employee health and personal hygiene.

Edison Grain has established Standard Operating Procedures to ensure that GMPs and other prerequisite programs are implemented effectively.
